RoundUp your expenses, reach your Goals

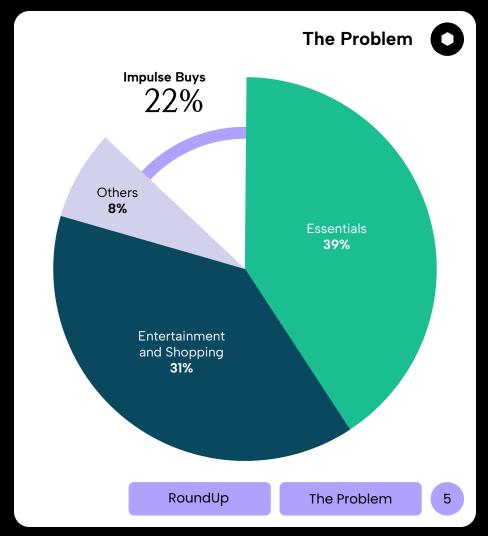

Everyday money disappears on quick fixes like Maggi, momos, and late-night coffee runs.

Before you know it, they shrink your savings, leaving little room for bigger goals—like trips you've dreamed of or that one thing you've wanted for ages.

76% of young adults believe that they make impulsive purchases

These unplanned expenses—often on entertainment and small treats—can quickly overshadow long-term financial goals.

The challenge isn't just about cutting down on impulse buys—it's about turning your savings into a healthy investment habit that builds wealth over time.

Most transactions have "extra" change that can accumulate.

Users often overlook small savings that can add up over time.

RoundUp is an app that automatically rounds up every UPI transaction and saves the spare change.

It transforms everyday spending into a structured savings plan without extra effort from the user.

- Step 1: User makes a purchase by scanning the UPI from the scanner in the app.
- Step 2: The app rounds up the expense by analyzing the user's transaction habits and the amount remaining to reach the goal.
- Step 3: The rounded up amount is automatically transferred to the wallet.
- Step 4: Users can track their savings progress and set savings goals.
